Roosevelt Alone Meeting Pan's With Opposition

Senator Carter Glass Declares Executive's Move Off Gold Standard is Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The United States House of Representatives Banking Committee today approved the administration bill to outlaw the "gold clause" of contracts and to make all contracts—both private and public—payable in legal tender money.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The United States administration moved Friday to elevate silver and paper money to the same legal standing as gold. A bill sent to congress by the treasury was started on its way toward passage in both houses of representatives and senate. It is designed to authorize the use of legal tender money in the fulfillment of all existing and future contracts, private and governmental.

The measure brought an immediate assertion from Senator Carter Glass, Democrat from Virginia, that the measure would be held unconstitutional "if there is any integrity left in the courts with regard to the sanctity of contracts."

It was described by Mr. Roosevelt as simply designed to legalize an already existing fact since the United States went off the gold standard in effect by the imposition of the recent gold embargo and the issuance of the presidential order calling in gold held by private citizens.

The proposal would permit the government as well as private debtors to meet their obligations with legal tender money instead of gold.

Despite outspoken opposition from some members of both major political parties, plans were made for its speedy consideration.

The resolution, introduced by Chairman Fletcher and Steagall of the senate and house banking committee respectively, reads:

"Every obligation, hereafter or herebefore incurred whether or not any such provision is contained therein, shall be discharged upon payment, dollar for dollar, in any coin or currency which at time of payment is legal tender for public and private debts."

Legality of the gold clause in public and private contracts has been a moot question since President Roosevelt took the United States off the gold standard and issued regulations against the hoarding of metal. Chairman Steagall said the resolution was to move to repeal the gold standard by statute.

"He added it would greatly facilitate administration of the orders against hoarding, and eliminate existing uncertainty in business."

HOUSE TAKES PROTESTED BY LIBERAL CHIEF

Mackenzie King Wants to Know How Papers Get News

OTTAWA, May 27.—Proceedings in the House of Commons were interrupted Friday evening by a protest from Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, against the publication in certain newspapers of information about redrafting of the House of Commons.

He read in a local newspaper this evening, said Mr. King, that contention had been made by the government in the constitution of Prince Albert which would destroy the sanctity of the Liberal. He wished to know from whence the information had come. He said as he knew what had actually happened was that the constitution of Prince Albert had been "rearranged" from a safe Liberal seat to what looked like a safe Conservative seat. Mr. King quoted at some length from the newspaper which stated, among other things, that the debate on redistribution would be held on Friday night.

Assurance that the government knew absolutely nothing about the newspaper article in question was immediately given by the Prime Minister. "The government is no more in the habit of the article than a man on the street," he said. Newspapers had ways of getting information which the government knew nothing about, he said, but in this case the government knew nothing about the rumor in question.

Suggestion Made Parties Consider Settlement Form

Attorney For Ex-wife of Minister Says Claim For Money is Secondary Plea—Early Decision Unexpected

By J. S. COWPER

The sensational publicity of divorce suit against Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works, which has held the spotlight in the Supreme Court for nearly three weeks, ended on Friday afternoon with a remarkable pronouncement from Mr. Justice Ford. In it his Lordship suggests that in view of the serious consequences attending a judgment and the difficulty of finding where the whole truth lies, that counsel for the parties might well consider some form of settlement, which would not make a finding on the main issues necessary.

The pronouncement was a prepared one which his Lordship had brought with him into court in preparation for the closing of the case. He read it as soon as Neil D. Maclean, K.C., had concluded his speech in reply for the plaintiff, Mrs. Cora McPherson, and suggested that counsel might wish to have copies prepared for their consideration.

Suggested Get Together

"I am going to reserve judgment," he said. "I can make no promise as to when it will be delivered as I intend to try to get time to go through the whole of the evidence including the exhibits."

"The consequences of a judgment, either for the plaintiff or for the defendant, will be of such a serious nature that if there ever is any difference between the consideration which a judge should give to cases which come before him, this is one in which the greatest care should be taken, because in delivering judgment on all consequences, however serious to anyone, must be disregarded."

"I desire, however, to say that at the present time there appears to me such room for doubt as to where the real truth of the whole matter lies, and there are such difficulties as to the legal questions involved, that the ends of justice may be better served by suggesting that counsel for the parties might consider whether there is not some way out of a judgment on the main issues either for their plaintiff or the defendant."

Consequences Not Specified

What the serious consequences are which the law cannot regard in its arbitrament, were not specified by his Lordship. S. H. Woods, K.C., counsel for Hon. Mr. McPherson, did, however, in his address refer to some of them, pointing out that if the plaintiff was successful in her suit to set aside her husband's divorce after he had married another woman, it would "make his wife not his wife, and any children he may have by her not his children."

Prior to tendering his suggestion to the parties his Lordship had reminded Mr. Maclean that at the opening of the case he had stated that the plaintiff needed money, and asked him if that was still the purpose of the suit.

"Primarily, your Lordship, we are asking for the annulment of the divorce. We are making a claim for money. That is a secondary plea that we make," stated counsel.

Get Copies Of Remarks

Both Mr. Woods, as senior counsel for Hon. Mr. McPherson and Mr. Maclean as senior counsel for Mrs. Cora McPherson, obtained copies of Mr. Justice Ford's remarks, in order to give them consideration.

In view of the suggestion made by his Lordship that counsel might consider an amicable settlement of some kind, it is not likely that his Lordship will make an early decision, in the opinion of one member of the bar, there is a month's work for Mr. McPherson's lawyer and considering the exhibits and the numerous authorities cited, before it would be possible to commence dictating a judgment.

Last word in the argument was made by Neil D. Maclean, K.C., counsel with George Van Allen, K.C., for Mrs. Cora McPherson.

He replied to the queries of Mr. Woods who had asked why, if there was collusion to provide the Saskatchewan evidence, did Mrs. McPherson leave nearly a week ahead of Mattern, who were instructions given to Detective Hamick to go to the airport to trace Mattern, and why did they trouble him with a description of Mattern if it was all arranged?

Bears All The Marks

Said Mr. Maclean, Hamick was called in by Mr. Richardson, who acted for Helen Mattern in securing a divorce from Capt. Mattern. It wasn't likely that Mr. McPherson was going to tell him boldly, "Go to such-and-such a hotel and you will see so-and-so."

"He asked, 'Why if there was collusion did Mr. McPherson give the detective a parcel to hand to his wife?' I wonder if Mr. McPherson thought of that little touch. It all bears the mark of preparation and advice. If ever there was a case where a man went to an hotel with a desire to be seen, followed and found out, it was this trip of Mattern's."

Mr. Maclean pictured Mrs. Cora McPherson on the night of January 19, 1931, when she left her home to go to Saskatoon. Said he, "She didn't know where her next door was coming from. She had no money of her own. Mattern says he had warned her that she couldn't look to him for support if she

Before acting on the bill, the senate voted down an attempt by Representative McCormack, Mass. Democrat, to insert a 2½ percent general manufacturers' sales tax in the bill to finance the $2,000,000,000 public works bill in respect to the sales tax, 1933 to 1935, the house approved.

HELP THE EMPLOYMENT PLAN

It is better to give a man a job and pay him wages than leave him idle and pay taxes to support him by direct relief.

That in general terms is the choice that confronts the taxpayer of Edmonton, as of every other city. The unemployed are with us. They must have the means of subsistence, or they cannot earn a living they must be given a living at the expense of the taxpayers.

Collectively, the taxpayers cannot employ all the idle men in the community on city works. The federal government will no longer assist in relief works. If the city attempted to borrow money enough to set the men to work, it would go bankrupt. It cannot at best do more than employ a fraction of them.

Individually, hundreds, perhaps thousands of taxpayers can make one more man for a few days or weeks each, using improvements which will maintain or increase the value of their property, and add to the convenience, attractiveness and enjoyment of their homes. For the money this cost, value is received.

At conditions which every dollar spent in providing new employment at useful work will provide the city's relief bill, perhaps fifty cents, certainly by some direct margin. And for money paid out as direct relief neither the city nor the taxpayer get any return whatever. Creating work is one way to keep next year's tax bills.

BONDS AND BILLS

A correspondent is disturbed by the suggestion that the Dominion Government should issue currency to pay its maturing bonds instead of issuing new interest-bearing bonds to retire the old ones.

The difference, he says, is that the Government promises to redeem bonds 100 per cent, while currency is only backed by forty per cent of metal coverage.

That used to be the case, but is not any more. The last issue of Dominion bonds are payable in lawful money of Canada, and that may mean to be "There isn't an ounce of gold behind a ton of the bonds unless parliament says so."

The bonds will be worth in gold, if anything, remains to be seen. The bonds are no better than the bills, which they happen to be "sound money," "flat money," or what have you.

Another error is: "One of the reasons the United States has so much the means with respect to gold is that the moment it has no external creditors, the money must pay."

Exactly the reverse, Congressman McAdams, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board at Washington, says the United States went off gold because "that was necessary." European creditors, he explains, had to be paid in gold, and American debtors, Gold payment was repudiated to keep them from drawing the metal out of the country, thus leaving the United States where Britain stood in the fall of 1914, technically "on gold" but actually without gold.

Perhaps Canada, a debtor nation, can continue to do what the greatest creditor nation on earth could not do—pay a foreign obligation in gold. Perhaps it can maintain a sufficient currency supply on a gold basis. The general reaction of large as that of the United States, which the latter country also could not do. The Dominion Government evidently has no intention of doing so, and no longer undertakes to redeem its bonds in gold, but only in "lawful bills." It would be simpler, just as simple, and only half as costly, to issue the bills instead of the bonds.

HOW TO FIGHT DEPRESSION

In the Commercial Intelligence Journal for May 20th, Mr. M. T. Stewart, Canada's assistant trade commissioner at Melbourne, writes of commercial and economic conditions in Australia.

"The introduction of the tariff on wool in Australia has unquestionably marked an upward turning point in the economic and financial conditions of the Commonwealth. The general reaction of interest rates to a lower basis has afforded considerable relief to all sections and has enabled the State Governments to meet their budgetary equities, while the Commonwealth budgetary figures now show a surplus. The economies effected have reduced production costs in primary and secondary industries, and the increased industrial efficiency resulting therefrom has made possible a downward revision of the tariffs without endangering the Australian industrial base."

"Australia is enjoying a period of stable and sound government which would appear to have several years more of office. The financial position has improved considerably. She is thus in a position to proceed immediately by any substantial improvement in world affairs."

Not at all a bad showing for a country which our "sound money" economists said had taken the road to ruin when it departed from the precious gold standard and hitched its money to the British pound.

The Premier's plan, to which Canada's official representative gives the credit for this showing, had three main planks: The value of the Australian pound was divorced from gold, and reduced to the level of five Australian pounds to four British pounds. There was a slight but rigidly controlled inflation of the volume of the currency. A refunding scheme was put through which cut out more on Commonwealth state and municipal debts, and rates on commercial loans were correspondingly reduced.

The result, as stated above, is that the national treasury now shows a surplus, that taxation is being reduced, that exports are meeting all foreign obligations, that producers have been able to meet their payments and taxes, and that definite industrial up-turn has come about, that political conditions are stable, and the Commonwealth is in position to take immediate advantage of any improvement in world conditions.

In a word, a country that was three years ago considered bankrupt has achieved a fair condition of prosperity despite the world depression, mainly by the adaptation of money policy to the conditions of the time.

This report from Canada's trade agent at Melbourne is not sufficient common ground for the views with which our Ministers at Ottawa have greeted every suggestion that they follow Australia's lead. The Commonwealth debt of the United States in its currency, old its products, paid its interest debts public and private, cut down its internal overhead, and its finances in order, and is reducing its foreign debt to the pleasure of the day. It is a model of financial management, and it is not too much to say that it has been doing everything else, let debts accumulate public and private, allowed foreign trade to go to pieces, hoisted taxation to unbearable levels, and has been losing its book-keeping in red ink.

CHAMPLAIN THE PATH MAKER

On this date, 229 years ago, Samuel de Champlain started upon the first of his many voyages into the interior, and made history. He left St. Helen's Island, Montreal, on May 21, 1613, with two canoes, a few Frenchmen and some Indian guides. He overcame the rapids at Lacine and then came across a mighty river emptying into the St. Lawrence, which he called the Grand, but which we know as the Ottawa. Exactly a week after leaving Montreal he arrived at the mouth of another river, which was named the Gatineau, after Nicholas Gagnon, a trader of Three Rivers, who had made the circuitous journey by way of the St. Maurice in order to avoid the Indians on the lower river.

Turning his eyes to the other side of the main river, he saw the falls resembling a curtain, to which he gave the name of "Gorge." It was a beautiful sight, and he saw a scene of beauty despite the ravages of industry. He described this as "An admirable sight. The water slips down with such impetuosity that it makes an arch of six paces. The Indians, enjoying the view, throw the tobacco into the swirling waters, save a lament or two, and then returned to their backs to Montreal, which was reached in half the time taken in the ascent of the Ottawa.

Early up and to the city on the most beautiful morning of the season. I will join the Cromdale-Pike-Hickens-to-Cille league, but Heaven help me I am offered a lift in a petrole car to the city. Queen's birthday, and a holiday, so that I rise at 10 o'clock, and have a great breakfast in dressing-gown and slippers, very comfortable, until my dear dame, I must make up my mind to get dressed, and come down. And then comes Sir Joe McLean and the Lady Bore, and with them and my lovely dove for ride in his petrole car. I will join the Cromdale-Pike-Hickens-to-Cille league, but Heaven help me I am offered a lift in a petrole car to the city.

Long Witness Suit Is Subpoenaed for Coming Trial

Preliminary of Parsille Murder Case on Monday

Two Accused Will Face Magistrate Gore-Hickman at Vegreville

No fewer than 25 witnesses have been subpoenaed by the crown to appear at the preliminary hearing of the murder charge against Kenneth and William McGee, father and son, which will commence at the Vegreville sub-judicial district court house at 2 p.m. on Monday before Magistrate Gore-Hickman. The charges are charged with slaying of W. J. Parsille, well-to-do Manville farmer, last August.

If all are called at the preliminary, the hearing will continue into Wednesday or Thursday. If it is decided that it is unnecessary to call them all, it will end Tuesday night or Wednesday.

At present the two accused are confined to the Fort Saskatchewan jail.

They will leave the Fort on Monday morning, probably by noon, and will be in time to reach Vegreville by 10 a.m., and will then await the opening of court at 2 p.m.

THE FAR CRY

It is a far cry from Vegreville to Knoxville, Tenn., but it is expected that at least one witness will be flown from the southern state to give testimony.

This witness is Jean Ward, who is alleged to have been a fellow-prisoner with William McGee, 21, and son.

Cleaners Capture Opening Contest of Big Five Amateur Baseball League

Bill Lewis

Sport talk on the street yesterday dawned on little else but the surprising victory of the Shamals in the senior ball game. The day night and the tremendous hitting power of Peter McCready, the Coast fire-buster, who hit a home run over the right-field wall of the new park was enough to start tongues moving wherever sportsmen gathered.

Batted as a super-catcher when he made his first appearance in practice here, McCready lived up to all advance expectations when his terrific walling carried the ball over the right-field fence. Placers just have to watch him who can pound the ball with such effect as can the new Coast outfielder and he will be valued highly by the water pitcher goes to the hill for the Royals tomorrow.

According to a despatch from New N.D., the young ladies representing the Durant Presbyterians Ladies College passed their exam this city yesterday, and will arrive in Edmonton early next week, probably on Tuesday. As the first game of their senior against the Grads is not scheduled until a week from tonight, the Grads girls are going to be thoroughly climatized before they tackle the local champions.

It is unfortunate that a series between two such highly rated teams has to be played in the manner agreed upon, without saying that each team will be badly handicapped when playing under a code of rules with which they are only fairly familiar.

Marking back to the series between the Grads and the Detroit Comets some years ago, the two sets of rules were used, it will be recalled that the time, fortunately, came rather than when determining the winner in the coming series, but it will be too bad for either team if the other should upset the Grads and capture a game under unfamiliar rules.

While eight players are all that are allowed in the ordinary Canadian or International final games, this series has such an unusual beating on the part of the Grads that the Grads girls are permitted to have ten players.

As the Grads carry only eight players, two others will probably be recruited from the ranks of the Gradsites, and by reason of their height and weight, possibly that Captain Mabel Morrison and the new MacDonald will get the call. While neither player has been named, both girls have practiced against the ladies' all winter and should be able to fit into the Grads combination fairly readily.

RED SOX LOSE FIRST BATTLE BALL SEASON

Hammer Davis Registers Opening Triumph by Score of 10-6

Scoring a decisive 10-6 victory, Dollar Cleaners opened their season in the Big Five Baseball League yesterday last night when they defeated the Red Sox at Boyle Street stadium.

Taking advantage of the early inning ineffectiveness of Freddy Williams offering, the Cleaners scored five runs in the first two innings and from then on held a clear advantage over their opponents.

Ray "Hammer" Davis pitched complete good ball for his winners. Whenever danger threatened and with the exception of the seventh inning when Red Sox did to him for four runs and five hits, he tossed most of the distance untroubled.

McConnell and Newhouse doubled three-base hits, while doubles were scattered in the last seven innings. There were seven errors. Cleaners being the worst offenders with four.

The next game will be played on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Diamond Park when the Stoney Plains team meet the Gradsites.

THE MUTUAL LIFE Insurance Company OF CANADA is noted for its

SATISFIED POLICYHOLDERS

The following proofs of the confidence and satisfaction of Mutual Life policyholders are particularly impressive in these strenuous days when values are being tested in the light of hard experience.

- One-third of the total NUMBER OF POLICIES issued this year has been on the lives of existing policyholders.
- Almost one-half of the total VOLUME OF BUSINESS this year has been on the lives of existing policyholders.
- The Mutual Life has the lowest lapse ratio for all Canada according to available reports. First position is held in six provinces, and in one only it ranks lower than second.

The service, solid strength and integrity behind every policy are responsible for this expression of confidence, which is fully justified by the unique record of the Mutual Life covering a period of over 60 years.

The Vehicles Highway Traffic Act, 1933 EFFECTIVE JUNE 1st

It is for every automobile owner to read the law, acquaint himself with its requirements, and to govern himself accordingly. It is useless for one layman to attempt to reduce the letter of the law, with all its peculiar circumlocution, to "simple language" for the benefit of other laymen. The law is framed in set terms and rigidly cast in a certain form of words and in that form is enacted and passed into legislation. To attempt to simplify the written law, and expound it in every day language—in which it is NOT written—would be to give a personal meaning to an impersonal thing, and, in short, to invade a province which no angel would ever dream of treading.

The most authoritative interpretation of the law comes from the Bench. Motorists, generally, are not anxious to have the law expounded to them from such a source and, to avoid it, they must observe the law even if they don't understand it—for ignorance is no excuse.

Here are some extracts from the VEHICLES HIGHWAY Traffic Act, 1933, Province of Alberta, effective June 1st, 1933, pertaining to the FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY OF AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS AND OWNERS.

YOU SHOULD CARRY PERSONAL LIABILITY AND PROPERTY DAMAGE INSURANCE

On Any Motor Vehicle That You Drive

"In any action for the recovery of loss or damage sustained by a person by reason of a motor vehicle upon a highway, every person driving such motor vehicle who is living with and as a member of the family of the owner thereof and every person driving such motor vehicle who has acquired possession of it with consent, express or implied, of the owner thereof shall be deemed to be the agent or servant of the owner of such motor vehicle and to be employed as such, and shall be deemed to be driving such motor vehicle in the course of his employment, but nothing in this section shall relieve any person deemed to be the agent or servant of the owner, and to be driving such motor vehicle in the course of his employment from the liabilities of such damage.

"Proof of financial responsibility" means a certificate of insurance, a bond, or a deposit of money or securities given or made pursuant to the provisions of this Part, and may be given by any of the following methods:—
"Filing of a policy of an authorized insurance company with limits of $5,000-$10,000 for Public Liability and $1,000 for Property Damage."
"Filing of a Bond of an authorized Guarantor or Surety Company."
"Deposit of Cash or Securities to amount of $1,000."

"When proof of financial responsibility has been required such must be continued for three years."

"The Minister shall suspend the license of a driver and the registration of every motor vehicle registered in the name of a person who fails to satisfy a judgment rendered against him by any court in Alberta or any other Province of Canada which has become final for damages on account of injury to or the death of any person or on account of damage to property in excess of $10,000 occasioned by a motor vehicle within 15 days from the date upon which such judgment became final upon receiving a certificate of such final judgment from the Court in which the same is rendered, and every such license and registration shall remain as suspended until such judgment is satisfied or discharged to the extent of at least $10,000 (Exclusive of interests and costs) for injury to or death of any one person and subject to that limit for each person so injured or killed to the extent of at least $10,000 (Exclusive of interests and costs) for bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident and to the extent of at least $10,000 (Exclusive of interests and costs) for damage to property of others not being property carried in the motor vehicle which occasioned the accident resulting from any one accident, and until such person gives proof of his financial responsibility.

"The Minister may require proof of financial responsibility before issue of the registration of a motor vehicle, or driver's license, or the renewal thereof to any person under the age of 21 years, or over the age of 60 years."

"The Minister may require proof of financial responsibility from any person who, while operating any motor vehicle shall have been involved in and in the opinion of the Minister is responsible in whole or in part for any Motor vehicle accident resulting in the death of or injury to any person or damage to property in excess of $10,000 or from the person in whose name such motor vehicle is registered or from both and the Minister shall suspend the driver's license or registration of all motor vehicles of that person until such proof of financial responsibility has been given.

"Proof of financial responsibility shall be given by every driver and in the case of an owner, by every owner to whom this Part applies for each motor vehicle registered in his name in the annual conditions and qualifications prescribed for and owners and drivers policy respectively by Part 7 of the Alberta Insurance Act 1930."

"Any owner or driver whose registration or license has been suspended or whose policy of insurance or surety bond has been cancelled or who neglects to furnish any conditions prescribed for financial responsibility upon the request of the Minister shall immediately return to the Minister his driver's license and all license plates issued upon the registration of his motor vehicle."

"If any such person fails to return his license and plates the Minister may direct the Police Officer to secure possession thereof and return same."

"Any person failing to return his license and plates when so required, or refusing to deliver the same when requested to do so by Police Officers, shall be guilty of an offense and incur a penalty of not less than $100 and not more than $500 for each offense."

If, after having read these portions of the Act, you find yourself in a fog, we strongly recommend you to consult one of the reputable and established Insurance houses listed on these pages. Such houses must necessarily keep a close check on the passage of all laws affecting their interests, and, consequently, they retain the most competent legal authority to counsel and advise them. For this reason an Insurance house is best equipped to explain everything you wish to know. Such advice and guidance is well worth having and it will neither cost you anything nor bind you in any way.

JUNE 1st What Does This Date Mean to You?

We advise you to study the new Act. If, after doing so, you are still uncertain as to your position as an Auto Owner, we shall be glad to advise you without cost or obligation on your part.

NOW, FRINSTANCE, BAXTER—
JUST TAKE THE CASE OF THOSE
ENGLISH AVIATORS, WHO FLEW
OVER THE SUMMIT OF MOUNT
EVEREST, IN THE HIMALAYAS—
WHY, THE BIG
HULLABALOO
OVER THAT,
EH?

WELL—FROM WHAT
I'VE READ, THEY WERE THE FIRST HUMAN BEINGS
TO REACH THE TOP OF THAT MOUNTAIN!

THE FIRST?
INDEED
THEY WEREN'T!

EGAD, BAXTER, YOU HAVE THE HONOR OF TALKING TO THE FIRST MAN TO SCALE THE SUMMIT OF MOUNT EVEREST—BUT NO
OVATION WAS ACCORDED ME
FOR ACCOMPLISHING
THE FEAT!

WHAT!
YOU
CLIMBED
IT?

HA-HAW-

JUST A MINUTE,
BAXTER, MY MAN—
NOT SO HASTY WITH YOUR GUFFAWS!
—HMM—TELL ME
HOW HIGH
IS MOUNT EVEREST?

POL-ENTY HIGH!
BUT I DON'T KNOW EXACTLY
HOW HIGH!

WELL, I KNOW! MY VEST-POCKET BOOK OF FACTS REMINDS ME
THAT IT IS 29,141
FEET HIGH!—HERE,
READ IT FOR YOURSELF!

WHAT'S THAT GOT TO DO WITH YOUR CLAIM OF BEING THE FIRST
MAN TO CLIMB
MOUNT EVEREST?

SIMPLY THIS, SIR—IF, AS YOU SAY, NO HUMAN BEING HAS CONQUERED THE SUMMIT OF MOUNT EVEREST, PRIOR TO THOSE
AVIATORS, HOW WAS IT ALREADY KNOWN THAT THE PEAK
IS 29,141 FEET
HIGH—EH?

I DON'T KNOW

WELL—UMF—HARR—RUMF—
I WAS THE MAN WHO CLIMBED
IT, TO GET THE MEASUREMENT!
I WAS A SCIENTIST IN THE ROYAL BRITISH GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY!
—KAF! KAF!

THERE'S SOMETHING IN THAT!

HOW WOULD THEY KNOW THE MOUNTAIN
WAS THAT HIGH BEFOREHAND, IF SOMEBODY DIDN'T
MEASURE IT?—
THEY COULDN'T
GUESS IT BEING
29,141 FEET HIGH!
HOOPLE STUCK
ME, THAT TIME!

OOF-
EGAD,
I'M GETTING DIZZY.
AWK

WHAT HAPPENED
TO YOU?

I WAS CHANGING AN ELECTRIC LIGHT BULB, AND BECAME VERY DIZZY, AND TOPPLED OFF
THE FOOT LADDER!

PLEASE, BUSTER—
DON'T EVER MENTION
THIS INCIDENT TO BAXTER, NEXT DOOR!
